Aligarh, July 28: The Department of Tahaffuz wa Samaji Tib, Hakim Ajmal Khan Tibbiya College (AKTC), Aligarh Muslim University (AMU) today organised invited talks to mark the World Hepatitis Day-2018.

Attending the programme as the resource person, Prof Syed Maudood Ashraf, former Dean, Faculty of Unani Medicine said that everything we eat and drink passes through the liver and, therefore, we need to eat right to keep it strong and healthy.

He added that hepatitis A and E can be prevented by food hygiene and use of safe water for drinking and there are oral medications available for curing hepatitis B and C. “It is important to consult a doctor for timely treatment,” said Prof Ashraf, who also discussed new concepts and research and classical literature of great Unani Scholars.

Speaking on the treatment, Prof S M Safdar Ashraf, Chairperson, Department of Tahaffuz wa Samaji Tib pointed out that hepatitis is an inflammatory condition of the liver, which usually takes place due to a viral infection and people across the globe are dealing with hepatitis but only a few are aware of their diagnosis.

Prof Khalid Zaman Khan, Dean, Faculty of Unani Medicine presided over the function.

Dr Abdul Aziz Khan conducted the programme, while Dr M Usman helped organising the programme. AKTC students and research scholars and teachers from various departments attended the programme.
First Health Camp (Free) at Barola Jafrabad held

Aligarh, August 09: The Department of Tahaffuzi Wa Samaji Tib (Preventive and Social Medicine) Aligarh Muslim University (AMU) organized first Health Camp at Barola, Jafrabad a village in Aligarh, in association with Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU), Regional Centre Aligarh on 08.08.2018 (Wednesday).

Dr. A A Khan and Dr. M Aslam were the consultant of the health camp which started at10am and continued till 2pm. More than hundred patients attended health check up, vaccination, E.C.G. and other facilities were offered free of cost and was jointly sponsored by Dawakhana Tibbya College and Chief Medical Officer, Aligarh.

The department has adopted this village for community survey and health check up. The camp was inaugurated jointly by the Dr. Safdar-e-Azam, Assistant Director, IGNOU and Prof. Abdul Mannan, Acting Dean, Faculty of Unani Medicine.

The Chief Guest of function Dr. Safdar-e-Azam, Assistant Director, IGNOU Regional Centre correlated the importance of education with hygienic practices.

Chairman of the department Prof. (Dr) S M Safdar Ashraf presented a short report of the departmental activities. He informed the audience about the details of health camp and promised further camp with specialized clinic

Pardhan of the village Yogendra Lodhi (Advocate) paid his gratitude to the department on behalf of residents of the village.

In his presidential address Prof. Abdul Mannan, Acting Dean; Faculty of Unani Medicine said that even the teacher of Medicine must realise that Prevention is better than cure. He praised the department for the activities towards social responsibility.

The Incharge of the health Camp Dr. Mohammad Aslam presented vote of thanks, while Dr. Abdul Aziz Khan anchored the programme.